Daphnis and Chloe is a classical novel by the ancient Greek author Longus. The story describes the love between two shepherd children from the Greek countryside. The novel is renowned for its lyrical and descriptive style. Longus' work has been translated into various languages and has been the inspiration for numerous literary and artistic adaptations. The novel's mesmeric narrative and the beauty of its language have made it a beloved classic in the world of literature.